

Coronacation

By Ryan Klinzmann

Deaths across the nation

Relentless information

SARS-COV-2

Countless unemployed with new occupations

Some playing constantly on the playstation

Others in complete isolation

Trump worrying about the virus' creation

While Cuomo is the country's new fascination

The old worrying about medication and cremation

The young cannot endure no graduation and isolation

The health care workers witnessing suffocation

Though everyone seemingly united for a common aspiration

A vaccination

Meanwhile the wet markets of Wuhan reopen months after isolation

Man's compulsion with liberation

Quietly breeding another desolation
